Privacy and Information Statement

CompliMed Ltd is committed to protecting the privacy of anyone using our site and the confidentiality of any information that you provide us with. The purpose of this statement is to set out how we use any personal information that we may obtain from you.

Data Protection Act 1988

We are registered under the Data Protection Act and comply with the Act in all our dealings with your personal data.

Use and collection of personal information

In general you can visit our website without telling us who you are and without revealing any information about yourself. If, however, you use our e-learning site you will need to register and you will be asked to provide certain information such as your contact details. We will store this data and hold it on computer or otherwise.

We may use information that you provide:

- a) To register you with our e-learning platform and to administer it.
- b) For assessment and analysis e.g. marketing, customer and product analysis, to enable us to review, develop and improve our services.

You have the right to see personal data (as defined under the Data Protection Act) that we keep about you upon receipt of a written request and payment of a fee of £10. Any request should be sent to: CompliMed Ltd, 6 Five Acres, Kings Langley, Herts WD4 9JU.

Security

We endeavour to take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information. However, we cannot guarantee the security of any data that you disclose online and we will not be responsible for any breach of security unless this is due to our negligence or wilful default.

General

Course content on the e-learning platform is advisory in nature and expresses views of interpretations of the ABPI Code of Practice. It is designed to help you better understand the rules that apply to certain aspects of the Code and encourage the principles of good promotional practice. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information about the Code is accurate and up to date and that guidance offered is in line with those requirements. Course material should not be seen as a substitute for the ABPI Code of Practice, nor is it designed to replace or override individual company codes of practice or policies. CompliMed cannot accept responsibility for any breach of codes of practice or statutes or any other consequence that may result from following the advice or guidance in this course. None of the content of this website will form any part of any contract between us or constitutes an offer by us. Information may be changed or updated without notice.
